*The card schemes classify transactions into 'regions'. This means that you may see the same card type appear under more than one charging line, based on the region of the transaction.

Within this document, we specify three different regions:

- UK Domestic – a UK-registered merchant accepting a UK-issued card
- EEA Intra – a UK-registered merchant accepting a card issued within the European Economic Area, as defined by the schemes, except for the UK
- Non-EEA Intra – a UK-registered merchant accepting a card issued within the European Licence area, as defined by the schemes, outside of the European Economic Area.
